Hatfield House

There are few more historic and idyllic places in Hertfordshire than Hatfield House with its handsome Jacobean architecture. This beautiful, atmospheric country house, set in the large Great Park on the eastern side of Hatfield, was built in 1611 by Robert Cecil.

It was here that the young Elizabeth learned that she was to become Queen of England after the death of her half-sister Mary in 1558.

Catch any of our buses to Hatfield station, just over the road from Hatfield House.

Watford 602 635

There's something for everyone here, and it's easy to get to on our 602 or 635 routes. There are some great independent shops alongside the big High Street names, and a huge choice of places to grab a bite to eat or coffee.

If you're after a bit of retail therapy, try Intu Watford - one of the region's largest indoor shopping destinations, right in the town centre. Inside you'll find over 100 stores, a nine-screen cinema, bowling alley and lots of restaurants. In Watford's High Street there's lots of choice too - and a variety of events are held throughout the year. And for something a little different, enjoy a wander around Watford's market - created from 42 shipping containers, with food, clothing, jewellery and more on offer.
